In June 2022, a joint explorative botanical expedition of participants from the Princess Therese of Bavaria chair for Systematics, Biodiversity & Evolution of Plants, the Botanical Garden Munich and the Botanical State Collection Munich together with partners from the Laboratoire de Botanique d' École Nationale Supérieure de l'Université de Yaoundé took place. The expedition led into two botanically unknown rain forest areas: Bandoumkassa in the western part of Cameroon, and Nkolandom in the South towards Gabon. The presentation is a colourful mixture of field work adventures, botanical highlights, first scientific outcomes and an outlook on future plans.
